

PLUMBERS' ROW GOES TO COURT

A. T. Lawrence Wants Damages From Masters' Association and Wholesale Firm.

HE CHARGES A CONSPIRACY

SAYS HE HAS BEEN PREVENTED FROM BUYING SUPPLIES.

Quarrels between the Master Plumbers' association of Salt Lake and master plumbers who do not belong to the association, were taken into the courts yesterday when Albert T. Lawrence, a master plumber who is not a member of the association, brought suit against the Crane company, dealers in plumbing supplies and against all the individual members of the association for $30,000 damages to his business. Under the law, Lawrence claims he is entitled to recover in such a case three times the amount of damages he has actually suffered; therefore his suit is really for $90,000.

Lawrence alleges that on or about Jan. 13, 1905, a conspiracy was entered into between the association and the Crane company, whereby the latter firm was to refuse to sell goods or supplies to any master plumber outside of the association. That agreement, he declares, while against the law, has been adhered to faithfully. He declares that the Crane company has refused to sell to him at all except at exorbitant prices, much higher than those charged his competitors in business. He says the association has also terrorized local agents of outside houses so that he has been unable to buy little or nothing from them.

Lawrence further charges that, not content with having wholesale firms boycott him, the association has inaugurated a system of espionage, has ascertained who his customers were, has taken pains to notify such customers that Lawrence could not buy goods of Salt Lake dealers, which, he says, has injured him greatly.

The plaintiff does not ask for any restraining order, but merely demands damages as stated.

ASKS HEAVY DAMAGES.

Woman Wants $20,000 From the Oregon Short Line Railroad.

Pauline Euberg yesterday sued the Oregon Short Line for $20,000 damages for personal injury which she says, she made her a permanent invalid. The complaint charges that on Sept. 3, 1905, while she was on the train, she was thrown from a car at Portland and her train collided with another train at Weiser, Ida. The conductor, she said, was precipitated violently upon her. She alleges injuries to her spine and to other parts of her body.

BAD BOY IN COURT.

Dayton Fernstermaker's Sent to the State Industrial School.

Dayton Fernstermaker, aged 13 years, was sent to the state industrial school for incorrigibility by Judge Armstrong yesterday. The evidence showed that the boy recently assaulted his grandfather with a poker and that he is possessed of kleptomaniac inclinations. He was arrested in Tooele county several months ago, but was released in the hope that he would reform.

Court Notes.

The case of W. L. Howard vs. the Salt Lake Nursery company on a promissory note for $250 is on trial before a jury in Judge Ritchie's court.

The suit of Turner vs. the Utah Consolidated Mining company for damages to farm lands caused by smelter smoke, is on trial before Judge Lewis and a jury.

Judge Morse yesterday decided for the plaintiff in the case of George Clisold vs. Ella M. Robertson, executor of the estate of Mary E. Clisold. The suit was one to quiet title to Salt Lake real estate.

The case of the state against J. P. Winslow from Weber county, where the defendant was convicted of dishonoring his daughter and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary, was argued and submitted in the supreme court yesterday.

COFFEE VS. COLLEGE.

Student Had to Give Up Coffee.

Some people are apparently immune to coffee poisoning—if you are not, Nature will tell you so in the ailments she sends as warnings. And when you get a warning, heed it or you get hurt, sure. A young college student writes from New York:

"I had been told frequently that coffee was injurious to me, and if I had not been told, the almost constant headaches with which I began to suffer after using it for several years, the state of lethargic mentality which gradually came upon me to hinder me in my studies, the general lassitude and indisposition to any sort of effort which possessed me, ought to have been sufficient warning. But I disregarded them until my physician told me a few months ago that I must give up coffee or quit college. I could not hesitate no longer, and at once abandoned coffee.

"On the advice of a friend I began to drink Postum Food Coffee, and rejoice to tell you that with the drug of coffee removed and the healthful properties of Postum in its place I was soon relieved of all my ailments. The headaches and nervousness disappeared entirely, strength came back to me, and my complexion which had been very, very bad, cleared up beautifully. Better than all, my mental faculties were toned up, and became more vigorous than ever, and I now feel that no course of study would be too difficult for me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

GARFIELD MAKES MORE DENIALS

Lie Given by Commissioner to Packers Who Have Already Testified.

STATES HIS INSTRUCTIONS

AGENTS WERE NOT TO USE "DETECTIVE METHODS."

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Commissioner Garfield again held the witness stand in the packers' case today and made positive denials of assertions that have been made on the stand by the witnesses for the packers. District Attorney Morrison questioned Mr. Garfield regarding his conversations with Edward Swift, Edward Morris and various other representatives of the packers, and the commissioner stated positively that he never told any of them that information received from the packers would be regarded as confidential or that if they did not give up the information desired by his department they would be compelled to do so.

The latter part of the day was taken up by the identification of letters. It is possible that several days more will be occupied by this work and the letters will be read into the record of the case later.

Examination of Garfield.

The opening of the examination was on the books examined by Mr. Garfield when he visited Chicago February 23, 1905. The books showed the assembling of profits and loss accounts of the different packers. He said that he examined the totals only and that no figures were taken from the books.

District Attorney Morrison then took up the subject of the conversations between representatives of Swift & Co. and Commissioner Garfield. He asked the commissioner:

"Did Edward Swift say in the presence of Charles H. Swift that you had said in previous conversations that all the information taken would be regarded as confidential?"

"He did not."

"Did he say that you had said that none of the information would be used to harm Swift & Co.?"

"He did not."

The witness then described the interview between Jesse P. Lyman, president of the National Packing company, and himself.

"Did you say anything to Mr. Lyman about the power to compel the production of the books and papers?"

"I did not."

"Did you say to Mr. Lyman that all information would be confidential and would not be used to injure the packers?"

"I did not."

During the introduction of evidence by the packers, affirmation was made by different witnesses to nearly all of the questions to which Commissioner Garfield entered a direct denial.

Instructions to Agents.

When Commissioner Garfield attempted to tell what instructions he had given to his agents prior to the commencement of the investigation, the attorneys for the packers objected strongly, but after a long argument between the lawyers, the witness was allowed to state what his instructions were. He declared that he told the agents of the department that if access was given to the books of the packers they were to go to the books; that no detective methods should be used; that there would be no use of compulsory process, or a suggestion of such a position upon the part of the government. If disputes arose they were to be referred to the commissioner for adjustment.

District Attorney Morrison asked what information had been secured by the commissioner outside of the books of the packers. Commissioner Garfield said that much of it had been secured from the bureau of animal industry, as well as from cattle raisers, feeders and commission men. Butchers were questioned regarding the prices of retail meats.

FIGHTING FOREST FIRES.

Path of Flames Leads to Big Reduction Plants.

Colorado Springs, Feb. 21.—A forest fire driven by a heavy gale from the mountains is raging in the foothills two miles west of this city. Three big gold reduction plants belonging to the United States Reduction & Mining company, the Golden Cycle Mining company and the Portland Gold Mining company are in the direct path of the flames. These plants are worth more than $3,000,000. A large force of fire fighters has gone to the scene on a special train. The fire is advancing along an area fully half a mile wide.

CONFESSES TO MURDER, THEN WIFE KILLS SELF

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 21.—Before swallowing a dose of poison, after hope of securing a pardon has vanished, Mrs. Sarah Kuhn wrote a confession in which she admitted putting to death her aged husband, Jacob Kuhn.

The confession details a plot that resulted in the death of her aged shoemaker husband. She desired to wed a younger lover. Mrs. Kuhn died from the effects of the poison.

TWO FIRES YESTERDAY.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 21.—Fire last night in the business district did damage estimated at $100,000. The firms affected are Morris Rhodes & Company, crockery and furniture; S. Anderson, tea and coffee; M. Nienkin and Van Winkle & Company, hardware. The first three were in the Gerst building. The firemen succeeded in confining the blaze to the building, but Van Winkle & Company sustained considerable loss by water. All of the firms affected were wiped out by the big fire four years ago and only recently were re-established in business.

Fire at Hitchcock, Okla.

Lawton, Okla., Feb. 21.—Two-thirds of the business section of Hitchcock, Okla., in Blaine county, was destroyed by fire early today. Twenty buildings were destroyed, entailing an aggregate loss estimated at close to $100,000.

BOODIES OF DEAD LOST FOREVER

Three Brave Men Who Died Fighting Fire in Old Dominion Mine.

FIRE MAY LAST FOR MONTHS

SIXTY MEN OVERCOME BY GAS BUT ALL RECOVER.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 21.—A special to the Herald this afternoon from Globe, Ariz., says that the bodies of Joseph Ikenberry, Joe Artlsey and John James, who met death last night while fighting the fire in the Old Dominion mine at that place will probably never be recovered. All three men have been buried beneath debris and miners are making heroic efforts to subdue the flames. They cannot reach the pumps on some levels, however, and it is feared the mine will be flooded and it will take months to extinguish the fire. All the miners in the mine when the fire broke out escaped, and the three dead men were suffocated while trying to put out their flames, and fell to the bottom of the shaft. Miners showed great heroism in fighting the flames. There was a pathetic scene about the mouth of the mine, wives and children begging the miners not to go down, but they went, one shift following another every few minutes.

The mine is owned by Phelps, Dodge & Co.

CONDITIONS STILL CRITICAL.

Danger Now That Mine Will Be Flooded.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 21.—Conditions at the Old Dominion mine today are still critical. Attention is now directed to the lining with canvas of one compartment of the working shaft to save as a chimney for the escape of gas coming from the several levels of the mine. The guides over the same compartment above the collar of the shaft have been enclosed with canvas, thereby carrying gases to the top. The men entered in this work have been below only a few minutes, and men are being lowered and raised continually. The conditions in the mine are very serious. The compartment already is showing good results and other compartments are comparatively free from gas. The several pumps, which raise over a million and a half gallons in twenty-four hours, have been running for twelve hours without attention. It is impossible for men to reach the station owing to the gas. Unless the station can be reached within the next few hours, the mine will be given attention. It is feared they will stop working, which would make the danger of the mine imminent. The interloper shaft, in which the fire occurred, caved in at 9 o'clock last night, forcing the gas through the mine and driving the miners to the surface. Sixty men were overcome by gas, but all recovered. The men showed no injury and many overcome by gas insisted, when restored, on returning below to battle against the fire.

IN THE GOVERNMENT'S PAY

Russian Ministry Meets Bills for Maintenance of Moderate Labor Organ.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—Through the disappearance of a journalist, Matushenko, the press agent and real brains of the Father Capon movement, the dispute has been decided that the moderate labor organ which Capon established in St. Petersburg, after the publication of the imperial manifesto of Oct. 30, 1904, was subsidized by the government, which supplied the funds for the rent of its club house and literature. Radical circles are not pleased with the decision, which was made in an open letter by the president of the Putloff section of the organization, complaining that the funds furnished through M. Timiriaseff, until recently minister of commerce, had not reached the needy. The Socialists claim that this spells the downfall of the conservative opposition to the full revolutionary programme among the workers.

It is now shown that Capon really played a minor role in the formidable movement of January, 1905, and that Matushenko was the director of the campaign which mystified the police and the world. Matushenko was the author of the great petition with which the workingmen were marching to the Winter Palace, Sunday, Jan. 22, 1905, to present to the emperor, when the troops fired on them. A curious commentary up on the conditions prevailing in the cabinet's action in opening clubhouses, for which the government furnished the money, when, up to the present, Interior Minister Petrov has not permitted assemblies of conservative workers, which are dispersed as rigorously as those of the Socialists.

THIRTY-TWO OPERATIONS ON ONE MAN'S LEG

New York, Feb. 21.—Charles Rorain submitted in the German hospital at Newark, N. J., yesterday, to the thirty-second operation that has been performed on one of his legs within fourteen years. The thirty-one preceding operations had taken away almost all of his leg, and the surgeons found only a stump yesterday. Rorain has been suffering from the disease for four years' time in the hospitals. Most of the operations have been due to Rorain's eagerness to leave the hospitals in which they were performed, affording no time for them to heal properly.

Rorain hurt his foot in an elevator fourteen years ago. The first operation cost him only a part of his foot. The surgeons say he will be fully cured in a month.

SOVES COLLEGE PROBLEM

Clark University Finds Solution of Three Years' Course for B. A. Degree.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Worcester, Mass., says: After a trial of four years President Carroll D. Wright and the authorities of Clark college are satisfied they have solved the problem of a three years' course for the A. B. degree, chiefly by saving to the students the time sometimes spent in preparing for intercollegiate athletic contests and also the time taken in some institutions in preparing for examinations.

"The first step toward such an adjustment was the outgrowth of the group of studies under which electives were properly balanced. These groups comprehend construction in all those branches legitimately belonging to the college course. The amount of work to be done is nearly the same as in four-year colleges, as, for instance, while Harvard calls for fifty-one hours to a course of half a year in college terms of four years, Clark calls for fifty hours in three years.

"The large amount of time expended in a four years' course in intercollegiate athletics was eliminated at Clark college. Nevertheless, they have abundant means for amusements in indulgence in games of all kinds, but under proper regulation.

"Through prohibition of intercollegiate contests, adjustment of examinations avoids suspending the regular exercises of the college and by the elimination of these methods, Clark college is able to give the students as much real instruction as is given by four-year colleges to its candidates for a bachelor's degree."

MISS ANTHONY IS ABSENT

Celebrated Suffragist Unable to Attend Luncheon in New York in Her Honor.

New York, Feb. 21.—Miss Susan B. Anthony in her telegram of regret at not being able to appear at the luncheon given in the afternoon at the Hotel Astor by the Inter-Union Political Equality league in honor of her eighty-sixth birthday, said:

"The word of a woman of eighty-six cannot be relied on like that of a girl of sixteen."

The assembled suffragists telegraphed in reply that they would look forward to having her with them on her eighty-seventh birthday. Miss Anthony's illness is not believed to be serious.

The luncheon was the largest ever given in the Hotel Astor, and brought together the advocates of the cause of woman suffrage from far and near. William Lloyd Garrison, son of the famous abolitionist, was the guest of honor and his sister, Mrs. Henry Villard, sat with twenty-one club presidents at another table in the center of the room.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Miller of Geneva, N. Y., daughter of Gerrit Smith, who was associated with his cousin, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, in the first equal rights convention at Seneca Falls, N. Y., was the observed of the occasion.

Mrs. Adelaide Johnson, sculptor of a portrait bust of Miss Anthony, which was placed in the Metropolitan museum yesterday, sat at the sculptor's table. Miss Philip A. Oeburn, a niece of Luerella Mott, was also there with Countess Rezz, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Phelps, in whose house "The Revolution," the first organ of the woman suffrage movement, was planned. Miss Lillie Devereaux Black, whose name is closely associated with that of Miss Anthony and Mrs. Stanton, was detained by illness.

The event of the afternoon was the address of William M. Ivins, the Republican candidate for mayor last fall, who declared that there was nothing nearer to his heart than the cause represented by the festivities of the day.

The toastmaster, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, introduced Mr. Ivins as a "new man."

DIME NOVEL READER KILLS YOUNG NEPHEW

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 21.—August Berndt, 12 years of age, was shot and killed yesterday by his uncle, William Berndt, 18 years of age, at the boys' home in Irondequoit. The uncle had been reading "Yellow" novels and was illustrating, according to his own admission, "how heroes fight." He forgot the revolver was loaded. He has been placed under arrest on the charge of manslaughter.

How Good Food may Turn to Poison

DECAY is not digestion, you know, even when it takes place in the stomach.

Food decayed in the body after being eaten is as dangerous to health as food decayed before being eaten.

Food nourishes or poisons, just according to how long it remains in the Bowels undigested.

Cascarets are the simplest and surest safeguard against Delayed Digestion yet discovered.

Sold in a thin Enamel Box, half as thick as your watch, which fits into the vest pocket or lady's purse as if it grew there.

In this round-edged Enamel Box are found six small Candy Tablets. One of these toothsome tablets works wonders for digestion.

Soon as placed in the mouth it starts the Saliva flowing, which at once gets to work dissolving it.

The Saliva becomes blended with the Candy Cascaret tablet, and from the moment they start going down your throat together they start working together.

Now, what do they work at? Bowel-work, of course—Digestion.

Most of the Digestion occurs in the thirty feet of intestines that connect with the Stomach.

They are lined with a set of little mouths, that squeeze Digestive Juices into the Food eaten.

The Digestive Juices thus mix with the food, just as Saliva mixes with Cascaret tablets, dissolving and changing that food into nourishment, as it passes along the channel.

FREE TO OUR FRIENDS!

We want to give you a beautiful French-designed, GOLD-PLATED BONBON BOX, hand-embossed in colors. It is a beauty for the dressing table. Ten cents in stamps is asked as a measure of good faith and to cover cost of Cascarets, with which this dainty trinket is loaded. Send 10c, mentioning this paper. Address: Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

I Cure Men.

I can take any man who has a spark of vitality left in his veins, and fan it into a flame and make him feel like a Hercules.

I can help a rheumatic to drop his cane and crutch and hop around like a boy. I had a patient come into my office recently and jump over a chair to show me that he was young again.

How do I do it? By filling the blood, the nerves, the organs and muscles with electric energy—that is what nature gave them at first; that is what they have lost when they break down.

That is how I cure, and that is why I am so sure that I can cure. You have the body that needs the power, and I have the power and know how to use it. Men who are run down, weak and puny, and who have lost the force of vitality, who feel gloomy, despondent and unable to battle with the affairs of life, who have Rheumatism, Back Pains, Weak Stomach and Kidneys and feel generally as if they needed to be made over in every move of your body.

And I will make the blood circulate in your veins, the nerves tingle with vigorous life and the spirit of energy show itself in every move of your body.

Don't you want to feel the vim and life in your nerves as you used to; to see the sparkle in your eye; to have the spring in your step and the lightness in your heart; that go with vigorous manhood? Life is too short to miss any of the pleasures that belong to it; so why don't you enjoy them as long as Nature intended?

Now, don't delay. Enjoy all the happiness you may in this world. You can have none without health and strength. Write to me and let me tell you whether I can cure you or not. I have a beautifully made book, which explains my treatment. If you will send this ad. I will mail it, sealed, free. Act now.
